

Reminder

The Christmas Bird Count is always held December 14 through January 5.

To find out the date of a specific count, go to the CBC home page <www.audubon.org/bird/cbc> and click "Get Involved," or contact your local Audubon chapter or center.

Calling All Counters!

We're always looking for images to use in American Birds, such as photographs of birds seen during the Christmas Bird Count or participants in the field. If you would like your pictures considered for publication, please remember to send them to your count compiler or regional editor, asking them to forward the images to us. Include your name and contact information. Thank you.

Christmas Bird Count Editorial Codes and Database Flags

Two-letter codes are often used by regional editors to better explain or question a given record. Database flags can be set by compilers and regional editors to indicate an unusual species, high count, or low count. This list will aid you in deciphering the keys when reading accounts in the summaries and on the web site.

Code	Comment	Code	Comment
AB	albino	NC	new to count

Victorial Highlights

One of two Varied Thrushes (Ixoreus naevius) found on Illinois CBCs this season was this individual at Calumet Park on the Calumet City-Sand Ridge count. Photo/Eric Secker

Although this "Western" Flycatcher (top) was silent during its brief stay on the Carlsbad Caverns, New Mexico, CBC, it was thought to be a Cordilleran Flycatcher (Empidonax occidentalis). Unquestionable, however, was the identity of the adult male Vermilion Flycatcher (Pyrocephalus rubinus) found on the same count! Photos/Craig C. Cranston

Summary of Highest Counts of Individuals for Canada

Richard J. Cannings

1330 Debeck Road, Site 11, Comp 96, RR1, Naramata, BC V0H 1N0; dickcannings@shaw.ca

Canadian counts reported 300 species on the 105th Christmas Bird Count, eight more than last year. Two species were added to the Canadian CBC list—Pyrrhuloxia at West Elgin, ON, and McKay's Bunting at Vancouver, BC. The national list now stands at 400.

British Columbia led the way as usual, with 156 high counts, followed by Ontario with 72, Nova Scotia with 34, and Newfoundland and Labrador each with 21. Victoria, BC, had the highest number for a single count, with 40, followed by Ladner, BC (23), White Rock, BC (12), and St. John's, NL (11).

Twenty-one of the high counts are all-time Canadian highs (not counting the new species mentioned above; numbers boldfaced below). Italics indicate those totals (65 species) that are highs for North America as well as Canada. Of these, the 708 Red-necked Grebes at Tlell, BC, the 40 Northern Hawk Owls at Opal, AB, and the eight Boreal Owls at Edmonton, AB, are all-time North American highs as well.

Six additional species were seen during count week only: White-rumped Sandpiper (Cape Sable Island, NS), Heermann's Gull (Victoria, BC), Yellow-legged Gull (St. John's, NL), Slaty-backed Gull (Nanaimo, BC), Red-naped Sapsucker (Logan Lake, BC), and Black-throated Gray Warbler (Toronto, ON). I have included records labeled "no details" by editors but not exotic species.

Summary of Highest Counts of Individuals for the United States

Brent Ortego

2805 North Navarro, Suite 600B, Victoria, TX 77901; brent.ortego@tpwd.state.tx.us

Rainy weather on the Pacific Coast was the “big equalizer” and allowed Texas to surpass California in national highs for only the second time in 30 years. A total of 652 species were reported, with 58 being all-time highs (boldfaced numerals). In addition, 36 infraspecific forms were reported, along with 29 exotic species (for which highest tallies are also boldfaced). The White-throated Robin was new for CBCs and was located on the Anzalduas-Bentsen State Park, Texas, CBC. Two additional species, Tristram’s Storm-Petrel and Laysan Finch, were known to be present on count day during the Laysan Island, Hawaii, count, but were not censused. Overall, 42 states and 307 CBCs had at least one national high.

On an individual CBC basis, Matagorda County-Mad Island Marsh, Texas, led the nation for the fourth year in a row (and seven out of the past nine CBC seasons) with the highest counts of 24 species. Honolulu, HI, came in second with 14 species, and was followed by Dade County, FL, and Freeport, TX, with 12 species each. Waimea, HI, had 11 species; Point Reyes Peninsula, CA, 10 species and one form; Portal, AZ, and Laysan Island, HI, 10 species each; Salton Sea (south), CA, nine species and one form; Zellwood-Mount Dora, FL, nine species; Ramsey Canyon, AZ, eight species and one form; and Guadalupe River Delta-McFaddin Family Ranches, TX, eight species. The remainder of the CBCs had seven or fewer national highs.

Texas led the states with 125 species and two infraspecific forms. California came in second with 114 species and six forms, and was followed by Florida with 75 species and one form. Hawaiian Islands with 65 species and five forms, Arizona with 58 species and two forms, Alaska with 29 species and one form, Washington with 19 species and one form, Massachusetts with 18 species, Oregon with 13 species, Colorado and Kansas with 12 species each, and Louisiana and Virginia, with 11 species each. All other states had eight or fewer national highs.

Only counts for resident species, infra-specific forms, and exotics without editorial comments questioning the validity of the results were accepted for this report. High counts for exotics without known established populations will be displayed, but will not be added to the results for the CBC or the state. If I make a mistake with this review of the 105th CBC, please let me know, and I will include corrections next year at the end of the column.
